Determined Us== Expectant You.

We are cutting, as we always do in July-only a little deeper if anything. This is the critical week. At its close every stock must be in readiness for the inventory. Knowing this, you are rightfully on the lookout for prodigious bargains-and you cannot be disappointed in their magnitude, either.

Half Price Offering of All Ladies' Wash Dresses, Waists, Skirts, etc.

We have deemed this the quicker and better way to reach the end. Such a general reduction is out of the ordinary-but this has been an "out-of-the-ordinary" store from the beginning. Out-of-the ordinary values-out-of-the-ordinary prices-and now the season's ending is being reached in characteristic manner.

The Fight Against Impure Food is being waged with renewed vigor. The whole country is up in arms against harmful adulterated food products. Flour comes in for its share of condeums. comes in for its share of condemnation. It's at just such times as these that "Cream Blend" is fully appreciated. It stands alone in its matchless purity—the one flour that can be relied upon to make wholesome, nutritious bread, rolls, cakes and pastry. Insist that your grocer sends "Cream Blend" always.

TEXAS FLOOD SUFFERERS.

Washington People Liberally Contri-The people of Washington are responding most liberally to the appeal made in behalf of the Texas flood sufferers, and the fund which will be sent from this city is growing quite rapidly. There will be a meeting this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock of women interested in the movement to relieve the needy Texans made destitute by the devastating rains. It will be held in the office of Representative Hawley of Texas, Room 8, No. 1517 H street northwest. The Department of Agriculture has acted promptly, and has shipped 8,000 pounds of seed to the flood district. These will be planted as soon as the conditions permit. The Evening Star will receive subscrip-tions for the flood fund and acknowledge the same. The subscriptions so far received

To the Editor of The Evening Star:

Time Base Ball Players.

Inasmuch as a large section of the Brazos country of Texas has been devastated by flood and the people are in sore distress for the necessities of life it has occurred to me that the base ball contingent of Washington could materially assist the sufferers and at the same time afford themselves a ington could materially assist the sufferers and at the same time afford themselves a pleasant afternoon's entertainment. Here in Washington we have a number of exprofessionals whose names at one time were household words all over the country. I have reference to Paul Hines, Doug Allison, Sadie Houck, Bob Barr, Tom Evers, Hollingshead, Harry McLean, Charley Abbey. Frank Lathrop, Ernie Hodge, Will Wise and Sam Sterne. Some, of course, gained more renown than others, but all at some time wore the professional spangles and made good where employed. My idea in behalf of the stricken Texans is to have the above mentioned members of the "Old Guard" don uniforms some afternoon to be selected in the near future, and play a benefit game against one of the amateur clubs of the city.

After the departure of the Washington club on its next western trip no doubt an open date can be secured at National Park, and I feel sure that Mr. Earl Wagner, with his proverbial generosity, would give the use of the park for the worthy and charitable cause. Of course there would be the usual incidental expenses for policing the park, etc., which are required by law. These, however, would be small and would make no heavy inroads on the receipts. In addition to the appearance of Hines, Allison and the other veterans I think President Nick Young and ex-Magnate Mike Scanlon could be induced to double umpire a few innings just to help the good cause along. I would suggest a general admission price of 25 cents for men and allow the ladies free entry. Aside from contributing the small sum of a quarter to aid the sufferers what real dyed-in-the-wool fan wouldn't give twice the amount to see the vets in harness once more? I am of the opinion that the game would be a financial success. The details can be easily arranged.

THE WORLD OF SOCIETY in Necedah, Wisconsin, yesterday. The remains of Mrs. Babcock were taken to Cedar Falls, Iowa, for interment.

News of Mrs. Babcock's passing away was not unexpected among her wide circle of acquaintances in this city, who were of acquaintances in this city, who were aware that she has been dangerously ill for several weeks. Soon after the adjournment of Congress last March Mrs. Babcock was taken to Chicago by her husband, where an operation for cancer was performed. It seemed to be successful, but while in the hospital Mrs. Babcock was selzed with pneumonia. The strain upon her system was too much and she never recovered her strength. The cancerous trouble broke out afresh, too, and some time ago her physicians announced the case to be hopeless. She was taken to her home, where, surrounded by her devoted family, everything possible was done to relieve the suffering of her last days.

Mrs. Babcock resided in Washington not

Funeral of Joseph Anthony.

Scott, Columbia, S. C.

The funeral of Mr. Joseph Anthony, one of the oldest merchants in Washington, took place yesterday from his late home, No. 1252 8th street northwest. The interment was in Congressional cemetery. Mr. Anthony was born in Baltimore in 1805, and consequently had reached the advanced age of more than ninety-four years. He came to Washington at a very early age, and soon after becoming twenty-one embarked in the hat business, which he conducted very successfully for a long time, retiring therefrom about thirty-five years ago. He was ill but a few months, and then only because of the infirmities incident to advanced age. He leaves a niece, Mrs. M. V.
